Australian and New Zealand Classification of Occupations (ANZSCO)

190 Visa = Skilled Nominated visa (subclass 190)

489 Visa = Skilled Regional (Provisional) visa (subclass 489)

^ The Department of Home Affairs allows only Medical Physicists to be eligible for the Skilled Nominated visa (subclass 190) and Skilled Regional (Provisional) visa (subclass 489) (State nominated).

Occupations may have the following status.

- Available: occupation is available for nomination
- Restricted: occupation is under review and invitations to apply for State nomination will be limited pending the outcome of the review
- Closed: occupation is closed for invitations

The occupations identified on the occupation lists do not relate to any specific job vacancies, nor represent any guarantee of a job, but rather identify occupations that are considered a priority for the State. It is recommended that you research employment opportunities in Western Australia (in your occupation) before making the decision to migrate.

Notes on using the occupation lists

Applicants who have a nominated occupation identified on the Western Australian skilled migration occupation list (WASMOL) or Graduate occupation list (GOL) may be eligible for Western Australian State nomination using one of the following visa subclasses:

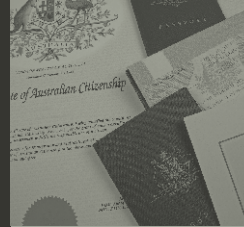

- Skilled Nominated visa (subclass 190); or
- Skilled Regional (Provisional) visa (subclass 489).

The WASMOL is available to applicants who intend to use the general stream. The GOL is available for applicants who intend to use the graduate stream.

State nomination applicants will have to compete with all potential employees in the Western Australian labour market to secure any available or advertised position.

For occupations which require licensing or registration before being permitted to work in Western Australia, a positive skills assessment and State nomination do not guarantee you will meet the licensing or registration requirements of the relevant licensing or registration authority. Those considering applying for Western Australian nomination are advised to check with the appropriate licensing or registration authority to verify their suitability for licensing or registration.

Consumer Guide

Registered migration agents are skilled people who must meet professional standards, follow the Code of Conduct and maintain up-to-date knowledge of migration law and procedure.

Your agent must be registered with the Office of the Migration Agents Registration Authority (OMARA), which ensures that only suitable persons are registered to provide immigration assistance. To check if a person is registered, visit OMARA's website: www.mara.gov.au.

Migration Agents and the Code of Conduct

The Code of Conduct ensures that your registered migration agent will:

- be honest with you about your chances of securing a visa;
- keep you informed about the progress of your application and any changes that may affect it;
- be contactable during business hours and tell you if they change their contact details;
- act within the law, your best interests and protect your privacy;
- declare any interest they have that may affect your application and not act for you if there is a conflict;
- provide you with a written statement — before starting work — of the services to be provided, the estimated fees and other costs;
- charge a reasonable fee and, if you pay in advance, keep this in a separate bank account;
- provide you with an invoice listing the actual services completed and the amount payable;
- provide timely and correct advice and tell you in writing about the result of your application as soon as possible.

Complaints

If you experience a problem with your registered migration agent you should try and resolve it with them. For help, contact OMARA.

Making a complaint to OMARA will not affect your visa application.

Office of the Migration Agents Registration Authority (OMARA)

Under Australian law, OMARA:

- assesses and decides applications for registration as a migration agent;
- approves continuing professional development activities for agents;
- monitors the conduct of registered migration agents; and
- investigates complaints against registered migration agents and will discipline them when appropriate.

OMARA cannot help you with your visa application or sponsorship, or order a refund of your fees from your registered migration agent.

The screenshot shows a web interface titled "Search for an agent". It features a "Search map" button with a location pin icon. Below this are two input fields: "Location" with a placeholder "eg. country, state, city, town, suburb, postcode" and "Agent" with a placeholder "eg. agent's family name or MARN". A blue "Search" button is positioned below these fields. At the bottom, there are links for "More search options" and a "Clear" button.
